

August 11, 2008

Weekend Wine -- Summer Bargains

The countdown to end-of-summer seems to be on... Ask just about any mom how much longer until school starts, and the answer comes flying back at you before the question is even out of your mouth! So it seems like a good time to flaunt some great wine bargains. I'm not saying that those moms are going to need extra bottles to get through these final couple of weeks, of course... Just that a good $15-and-under wine always comes in handy!

Clayhouse 2006 Cabernet Sauvignon, Paso Robles

Juicy, aromatic red cherry and berry fruit is laced with mocha, sage and toasty oak notes that linger nicely on the smooth finish. Ready to drink now and over the next couple of years.